MACULA Hebrew Linguistic Datasets © 2022-2024 by Biblica, Inc is licensed under CC BY 4.0 . These datasets include:

1. Syntax trees that combine the Westminster trees with OpenScriptures Hebrew Bible morphology, with a common set of identifiers.
2. Identifiers for orthographic words and morphs.
3. Greek equivalents drawn from the Septuagint
4. English and Mandarin glosses taken from Cherith's glosses.
5. Strong's numbers for both Hebrew and Greek equivalents
6. Semantic domains and word senses drawn from the Semantic Dictionary of Biblical Hebrew (see `@sdbh`, `@lexdomain`, `@coredomain`, `@contextualdomain`)
7. Semantic frames (see `@frame`).
8. Participant referents (see `@subjref`, `@participantref`)
9. Synonyms (see `./sources/Clear/synonyms`)
10. Word Senses (see `@SenseNumber`) that are distinct from the Semantic Dictionary of Biblical Hebrew word senses.

In addition to datasets from Clear, MACULA contains data from the following datasets:

- Westminster Leningrad Codex - the somewhat informal license states that "All biblical Hebrew text, in any format, may be viewed or copied without restriction." The snapshot we used is in sources/tanach.us/xml.
- Westminster Hebrew Syntax without Morphology Copyright (C) 1991-2018 by The J. Alan Groves Center for Advanced Biblical Research is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License ("CC BY 4.0").
- OpenScriptures Hebrew Bible is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License ("CC BY 4.0"). Original work of the Open Scriptures Hebrew Bible available at https://github.com/openscriptures/morphhb. See `./sources/OpenScriptures/xml` for our derivative version, which organizes morphology according to morph in order to make it easier to integrate into the trees.
- Semantic Dictionary of Biblical Hebrew, edited by Reinier de Blois, with the assistance of Enio R. Mueller, ©2000-2021 United Bible Societies. Used with permission.
- Cherith Glosses for the Hebrew Old Testament, by Andi Wu, Copyright (C) 2022 by Cherith Analytics, is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License ("CC BY 4.0"). See `./sources/Cherith/glosses`.
