Please note that 90% of your questions are answered through careful review of the Fair-Use Guidelines shown below. We strongly encourage you to read them before contacting us.

Fair-Use Guidelines

The term 'Fair-Use Guidelines' refers to the policies Tyndale uses to determine whether or not you need written permission from Tyndale to produce or publish your work using our copyrighted material. To determine fair use, please carefully review the information below, and if your request falls within our Fair-Use Guidelines, written permission is not necessary, and you may proceed with your project, provided you use a proper copyright notice as indicated below. If you feel your request is not in compliance, or you have additional questions, please fill out this Permissions Questionnaire.

▾ THE LIVING BIBLE

The Living Bible (TLB) was created by Kenneth N. Taylor, and was first published in 1971. Unlike most English Bibles, The Living Bible is a paraphrase.

1. FAIR USE
   The text of The Living Bible may be quoted in print or eBook form, up to and inclusive of 500 verses without express written permission of the publisher, provided that the verses quoted do not account for more than 25 percent of the work in which they are quoted, and provided that a complete book of the Bible is not quoted.

the work, or other permission requests, must be approved in writing by Tyndale House Publishers. Send requests by email to permission@tyndale.com or through the Permissions Questionnaire.

2. COPYRIGHT NOTATION
   When The Living Bible, is quoted, one of the following credit lines must appear on the copyright page or title page of the work:

   When the TLB is being used exclusively in a project:
   Scripture quotations are taken from The Living Bible, copyright © 1971 by Tyndale House Foundation. Used by permission of Tyndale House Foundation, Carol Stream, Illinois 60188. All rights reserved.

   When multiple translations are being used in a project:
   Scripture quotations marked (TLB) are taken from The Living Bible, copyright © 1971 by Tyndale House Foundation. Used by permission of Tyndale House Publishers, Carol Stream, Illinois 60188. All rights reserved.

   When multiple translations are being used in a project, but the majority will be taken from the TLB:
   Unless otherwise indicated, all Scripture quotations are taken from The Living Bible, copyright © 1971 by Tyndale House Foundation. Used by permission of Tyndale House Publishers, Carol Stream, Illinois 60188. All rights reserved.

3. NON-SALABLE MEDIA
   When quotations from TLB text are used in non-salable media, such as church bulletins, orders of service, newsletters, transparencies, or similar media, a complete copyright notice is not required, but the initials (TLB) must appear at the end of each quotation.

4. MUSIC
   Our policy for quoting The Living Bible in music is that the verses must be quoted word-for-word (verbatim), with no words taken out.
   Quotes from TLB in music must be clearly detailed in writing on our Permissions Questionnaire before permission may be granted.
   Please include the following information in your request:
   - Your complete lyrics
   - How many verses of TLB are you using
   - Approximately what percentage of your song is made up of TLB scripture
   - How many songs are you hoping to write

5. ARTWORK
   Quotes from TLB used with graphic designs including T-shirts, book covers, posters, bumper stickers, banners, greeting cards, billboards, or other artwork, must be clearly detailed in writing on our Permissions Questionnaire before permission may be granted. In the questionnaire, please provide a list of which specific product types you want to sell, as well as pricing for each product. Please include the following information in your request:
   - What product types are you planning to sell
   - What will the retail price be for each product
   - How many units of each product are you hoping to sell in the next 5 years
   - What percentage of the product is made up of TLB scripture

6. ONLINE PLATFORMS
   Our standard fair-use policy to quote TLB in Sermons/Bible Teachings Online is:
   - Permission to quote up to 50 verses per recording
   - The scripture quotes can make up to 25% of the spoken content
   - Each recording must give verbal or written attribution to TLB
   - Recording cannot be commercial or monetized (if content is commercial or monetized, please fill out the Permissions Questionnaire to discuss in more detail)

   Our standard fair-use policy to quote TLB in online formats (Podcasts, YouTube, etc.) when percentage of bible content is over 25%:
   - Permission to quote up to 250 verses per recording
   - No more than 30 videos/episodes containing TLB may be up on page at a time
   - No post can contain an entire book of the Bible
   - Recording cannot be commercial or monetized (if content is commercial or monetized, please fill out the Permissions Questionnaire to discuss in more detail)
   - Each video or podcast should give verbal attribution to TLB
   - Each video must also give proper written attribution to TLB in the description section of each post as follows:
     Unless otherwise indicated, all Scripture quotations are taken from The Living Bible, copyright © 1971 by Tyndale House Foundation. Used by permission of Tyndale House Publishers, Carol Stream, Illinois 60188. All rights reserved. If the online content is substantially or exclusively TLB content and is commercial/monetized, the creator will be required to pay a fee and to obtain a Permission Letter or a License from Tyndale House Publishers. If your content falls into this category, please fill out our Permissions Questionnaire to discuss next steps.

7. FURTHER GUIDELINES
   All material quoted from TLB must be done so accurately, including punctuation, capitalization, italics, etc. Tyndale must be made aware of any intended deviation in style, in writing, prior to publication.

   Permission given by Tyndale House Publishers for the use of text from TLB applies to the specific use requested. Any other use requires a separate request for permission. If you have been granted permission for use of text from TLB, you may not pass permission on to another person.

   Permission to quote from TLB in projects produced for sale that are not within fair-use limits may be accompanied by a fee.

   If you need written permission, or still have questions, please fill out the Permissions Questionnaire. The more details you provide about your project, the quicker we can process your request.
